

Q2 Growth Review - raw metrics dump

This slide is intentionally unpolished. Use the table below as the source of truth for the dashboard redesign.

Month	Channel	Revenue	Ad Spend	Paid Conv.	M30 Ret.
Apr	Search	$64,750	$11,200	370	82%
Apr	Paid Social	$42,900	$18,800	260	73%
Apr	Referral	$60,000	$2,700	300	89%
Apr	Partner	$37,800	$4,300	180	87%
May	Search	$81,700	$11,800	430	83%
May	Paid Social	$58,900	$20,100	310	74%
May	Referral	$78,100	$2,900	355	90%
May	Partner	$52,900	$4,700	230	88%
Jun	Search	$101,475	$12,600	495	84%
Jun	Paid Social	$78,750	$21,500	375	75%
Jun	Referral	$101,050	$3,200	430	91%
Jun	Partner	$68,400	$5,200	285	89%

Notes from growth meeting

Q2 revenue = Apr-Jun total. Need to show momentum, not just table cells.
Referral has strong revenue efficiency and best retention.
Paid Social has volume but spend is high and retention lags.
Partner grew steadily; call out June acceleration.
Dashboard should have KPI cards, charts, and one clear recommendation.

Brand / dashboard style guardrail

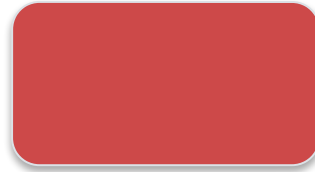

Navy

Teal

Amber

Risk Red

Canvas Gray

Use a clean SaaS executive-review style: compact KPI cards, readable native charts, visible units, clear channel colors, and concise takeaway annotations. Avoid decorative gradients, tiny labels, and screenshot-only charts.

Appendix: definitions

Revenue: Recognized revenue from paid conversions in the month.

Ad Spend: Channel-specific acquisition spend for the month.

Paid Conv.: Number of paid conversions attributed to the channel.

M30 Ret.: Percent of paid customers retained 30 days after conversion.